Ministry of MSME, BEA organise industrial motivation campaign

TNN | Mar 8, 2019, 10:00 PM IST

PATNA: Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises Development Institute (MSME-DI) Patna under Union ministry of MSME promised to extend support to those interested in creating self-employment avenues in the two-day industrial motivation campaign that kicked off here on Friday.

On the first day of the campaign organized jointly by Bihar Entrepreneurs Association (BEA) and MSME-DI, Vishwa Mohan Jha, director of the institute said that entrepreneurs can benefit from network of ordnance factories in Bihar.

“This will not only empower the ordnance factories by making them self-sufficient but will also provide adequate moneymaking opportunities to the local business community,” he said.

Suman Shukla shared his journey and motivated the audience on the occasion that was ably coordinated by Ravi Kant, assistant director, MSME-DI, Manoj Mishra, assistant professor, Chanakya National Law University, and CA Ankit Kumar and CA Praneet Kumar, both BEA members, addressed the participants on issues related to financial awareness. Health director, BEA, Amitesh Anand and Bagaha-based entrepreneur Nitesh Kumar were also present on the occasion.

Navin Kumar, assistant director, MSME-DI addressed the participants on various possibilities of different kinds of industries in Bihar. Umesh Kumar gave detailed information related to the various schemes of the state government and various opportunities related to the participants.
